

2019 Creator's Path of Beauty & Harmony

Would Jesus Eat Frybread?
NOVEMBER 8-10
SALT RIVER, ARIZONA

A conference for Native college students across North America and Pasifika who want to experience the goodness of Creator's Son.

Cost: $325 (scholarships available)
info. and registration at wjef.org

CAVIN INSTITUTE OF
CHRISTIAN WORSHIP

Would Jesus Eat Frybread?

Join us November 8-10, 2019 in at the homelands of the Pima-Maricopa nation near Phoenix, Arizona for a gathering of 140+ Native college students representing more than 50 Nations who together will explore the Creator's path of renewal and resilience.

The Would Jesus Eat Frybread? conference (WJEF) is a gathering for Native students like you who come from across North America and Pasifika to:

- Meet other Native college students who are investigating following Jesus while honoring their peoples, cultures, and traditions.
- Learn from tribal elders as they offer their wisdom, experiences and stories.
- Learn to walk in beauty even when the path is dark by following the Jesus way.
- Share the gifts that Creator has placed in your culture.
- Seek healing through prayer.
- Discover the abundant life that Creator offers.
- Be sent back to your campus with a full belly and a happy heart.

wouldjesuseatfrybread.org